

How to view reports:

1. In the top right, under insights, you can select reports.

2. The reporting page provides a variety of data available for download.

The screenshot shows the LinkedIn Learning Reports page. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'LEARNING', 'People', 'Content', and 'Insights'. A search bar is present with the text 'Search for people, groups or content...'. Below the navigation bar, there are tabs for 'Dashboard', 'Skills', 'Recommendations', and 'Reports'. The 'Reports' tab is selected. The main content area is titled 'Reports' and includes a sub-header 'Download reports to analyze learning activity, track your recommendations, and discover the most popular content.' Below this, there is a message: 'Great news! Downloadable reports are now more customizable and comprehensive. Looking for the previous downloadable reports experience? You can still access it here until June 15, 2021.' The main content is a table with two columns: 'Report Name' and 'Report Description'. The table lists several reports under two categories: 'ANALYZE LEARNING ACTIVITY' and 'TRACK LEARNER DETAILS, GROUPS AND RECOMMENDATIONS'. Each report has a download icon (a downward arrow) to its right.

Report Name	Report Description
ANALYZE LEARNING ACTIVITY
Organization Summary	Analyze aggregated activity across learners
Learner Summary	Analyze aggregated activity per learner
Learner Detail	Analyze detailed activity per learner
CEU Detail	Analyze Continuing Education Units earned by your learners
TRACK LEARNER DETAILS, GROUPS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
